Mrs. Lulu Youngs of Rochester Murders Florence MacFarlan, 21 Years Old. and is Arrested an Hour Later

-Fatal Thrust Penetrated Girl's Heart. ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 18.-Mrs. Lulu Miller Youngs, wife of former City Purchasing Agent Frank E. Youngs, murdered Florence K. MacFarlan, 21 years old, daughter of James MacFarlan, a travelling salesman, at 543 Court street, at 9:30 o'clock this morning, after a struggle in the house the victim fleeing before her assailant, who stabbed her in the breast and arms the fatal thrust penetrating the woman's heart. Jealousy was the cause.

Within an hour after the murder was committed the police arrested the woman accused of the crime, and it is said that she has made a complete confession to the police. Detectives Maguire and Whaley arrested her in the home of her father Truman E. Miller, an inspector in the employ of the city, who lives at 881 Exchange

To her parents Mrs. Youngs confessed the crime, but declared she did not know how badly her victim was injured. Her intention, she cried, was not to kill, but to

Frank E. Youngs, the husband of the woman under arrest, is well known here. He has been engaged in the tobacco business on Main street East, is a director in the Seneca Camera Company and was city purchasing agent under the Carnahan administration. The clue which led to the arrest was obtained through a picture of Youngs and h s two bulldogs, which are as well known as he is. Coroner Thomas A. Killip procured this picture, gave it to the detectives. who recognized the man and arrested his

A note in Mrs. Youngs's handwriting was found in the dresser at their home It read: "Frank, may God forgive you for all the trouble you have caused me.

Miss MacFarlan was rooming in the family of Mrs. Louis Savoy, but boarded elsewhere. There was only Mrs. Philip St. Louis, an aged woman, who acts as cook, in the house at the time.

When she arose this morning Mis-MacFarlan went to the kitchen, where she was met by Mrs. St. Louis. The doorbell rang and a tall woman stood at the door. Florence invited her in and they sat in the little parlor in the front of the house. No loud words were used, nor was there anything to lead Mrs. St. Louis to suspect that anything but the best of feeling prevailed between the women. Suddenly Florence rushed out of the parlor and toward the dining room, which is just off the hallway. Mrs. Youngs was close behind her. A blow had been struck before this, either in the hallway or in the parlor, for Florence stumbled and fell against the dining-room table and blood spurted over the white linen spread.

"What kind of play is this?" cried the aged woman, thinking that the women were fooling.

But Florence regained her balance and started for the little pantry just south of the dining room. Accidentally, Mrs. St. Louis stepped in front of Mrs. Youngs, who pushed her aside violently and followed rapidly in the steps of her victim.

Florence reached the pantry first and closed the door, trying to brace it against the entrance of the other, but Mrs. Youngs seemed to be possessed of the strength of a dozen women and threw it open, advancing upon the girl, who fell upon her knees, begging to be spared.

The woman again attacked her, thrusting the knife into her breast, and, waiting a moment to explain that she had avenged the loss of her husband's love, left to that the lives of student officers are too

A scarch of Piorenac's room was made and a picture of Youngs was found on the mattel. A number of letters were found which shed a little light on the tragedy. Around Miss MacFarlan's neck was a slender gold chain from which hung a gold locket with the initials "F. K. M.". It was bloodstained. It held a picture of Youngs. TOTAL THIS YEAR 325,000 SURE: MAYBE HALF A MILLION.

Greater Gains Outside This State Than in It Massachusetts Shows 300 Per Cent. Debs Vote Two Years Ago Only 86.000-Hatchett's In '96 but 36.274.

The latest election returns throughout the country will bring the Socialist vote this year, it is estimated, up to from 325,000 to 350,000 votes. Of these from 40,000 to 50,000 were given to the Socialist Labor party. The rest belong to the Socialist party, which is the outgrowth of the Social Democracy founded by Eugene V. Debs in 1900. The New York branch of the party still calls itself the Social Democratic party. When the returns are tabulated the party is likely to poll from 15,000 to 16,000 votes in this city in comparison with about 10,000 votes last year; and over 25,000 in the State. The Socialist Labor party, composed of the De Leon socialists has polled probably about 8,000 votes in New York city as against about 6,200 last year.

Outside of this city and State the Socialist party has made much greater gains, especially in Massachusetts, where the Socialist vote has increased 300 per cent.

In Pennsylvania the Socialist party vote was less than 5,000 in 1900. It increased somewhat in 1901 and this year it will proba-bly reach a good deal over 20,000. The Socialist Labor party had only a State ticket in Pennsylvania this year and polled about 600 votes.

In Ohio it is estimated that the vote of the Socialist party will be 1,500 this year. The increase is more than 200 per cent, over last year and in some cases more. Cleve-land had a vote of 710 last year which has risen to 2,500 this year. Cincinnati will show a total vote of over 5,000.

The Socialist vote in Illinois is expected to run to 25,000. The vote in the State two years ago was 9.887. In Chicago the Socialvears ago was 9.887. In Chicago the Social-let party vote is about 13.000 and the Social-ist Labor party vote 5.600.

Wisconsin gave Debs 7.095 votes as the Social Democratic candidate for President in 1900. This year Milwaukee county and Sheboygan county alone gave 12,000 votes for the Socialist party. Milwaukee's vote may foot up 12,000.

In Indiana it is expected that the State

In Indiana it is expected that the State vote will be 200 per cent. larger than in 1900. It is expected that the full Socialist vote will be 8,000 for the Socialist party and 2.200 for the Socialist Labor party, and 2.200 for the Socialist Labor party. It In Minnesota it is expected that there will be 12.000 Socialist votes. Minneapoils shows 1,500 or 1,600. St. Paul shows about the same number. The figures in both cases, it is expected, will be increased by later returns.

Kentucky shows an increase of about 400 per cent, in the entire Socialist vote. Covington had 306 votes in 1900. This year it has more than 1,700. Campbell county has increased its Socialist vote this year from 208 for Debs in 1900 to 1,200.

The returns from Iowa indicate that the Socialist gains will show an increase of 150 or perhaps 200 per cent. Davenport, which gave 414 last year, is estimated to have polled 850 this year. In Connecticut the returns show that seventeen towns which gave 1,495 Socialist votes altogether in 1900 give this year

2,510 votes for the Socialist party and 789 for the Socialist Labor party. The estimated Socialist vote in Washington State is 8.000. It was 1,966 two years ago. Seattle polls 925 votes as against 212 for Mayor last spring and 269 for Debs in

The Socialist vote in California is expected to run to 12,000. San Francisco, which polled 916 for socialism last year will give more than 2,000 this year.

In Colorado there is a large increase in the Socialist vote. Telluride gave only 11 Socialist votes two years ago. This year it gives 583 in comparison with 675 Republican and 713 Democratic.

Michigan, Maryla nd and several other States show an increase. In Saginaw, Mich., the Socialist party elected an Alderman. Other States showed a corresponding increase.

TRY TO CAPTURE FEDERATION OF LABOR MEETING.

Beaten on a Test Vote in New Orleans by 94 to 85-They Declare That They Want Recognition-Urge Workingmen to Vote Together Against Trusts.

NEW OBLEANS, Nov. 18.-The Socialists have turned out in force at the convention of the Federation of Labor, and are far more numerous than at any previous one. They are here to compel, if possible, the federation to take some stand on the question of socialism. It was said that they would make a fight for an increase in the Executive Committee and the recognition of the Socialists by placing one of their leading members thereon.

Victor L. Berger, delegate from the Milwaukee Federated Trade Council and National Committeeman of the Socialist party from Wisconsin, who is recognized as the leader of the Socialists in the federation, declared to-day that his party "did not expect the federation to indorse it as a party or any other party." He added:

"We simply want the federation to come out squarely for the collective ownership of man's own production and distribution, and to urge trades union men to make use of the ballot to accomplish it. We Socialists have no quarrel with the trusts as such. We look upon them as the natural and legiti-mate outcome of the competitive system. "But while we have no fault to find with the trusts, as such, it is also obvious that as long as the trusts exist, the 'trustocrats' will be our lords and masters. They have the power to fix the prices of the necessaries of life. They are able to dictate to the people how much meat and how much coal, how much iron and how much lumber asked for reënforcements. The Political we are to use; how well or how poorly we Officer at Gumatti has promised to send are to be dressed; how much or how little we are to eat; in other words how long or low short we are to live. "Such power cannot last in a civilized country. Such power will not endure in America. Besides this, we must take into consideration that the economic conditions, since the machine has taken the place of handwork, make it impossible for the overwhelmingly large part of the producers to own any considerable part of the social wealth which they have created. The union will be powerless to cope with the trusts, unless the workmen make use of their strongest weapon, the ballot.

"Of late only such strikes were victorious as could interest the politicians. Only where the votes came into consideration could great strikes be won. Now, we Socialists ask the trades unions to vote as cialists ask the trades unions to vote as they strike: to vote for the ir own class, not for the capitalist class; to vote for the abo-lition of this system. That is the position of Socialist delegates in this convention which we will urge upon the convention." A test vote was made to-day of the strength of the Socialists in the federation the resolution came up in favor of strength of the Socialists in the federation when the resolution came up in favor of a pension to be paid by the United States to all workingmen over 60 years of age. The resolution, which was offered by Delegate Berger, was reported back to the convention unfavorably by the Committee on Resolutions and an angry debate followed, which was participated in by a large number of delegates.

The Socialists showed themselves unexpectedly strong and the resolution was defeated by the slim majority of 94 to 85, although all the influence of the officers was thrown against it. Mr. Berger and the Socialists declared themselves thoroughly satisfied with the result. They expressed the opinion that they would have pressed the opinion that they would have little difficulty in getting this and other Socialist resolutions through at the next meeting of the federation. The resolutions against an anti-scalping law, against the employment of any except union musicians at the St. Louis Exposition, and in favor of the increased pay of letter carriers, were adopted.

Fraternal greetings were extended to the delegates from Great Britain and Canada Mr. Edwards, the English delegate, said that the labor question was the same in Great Britain and the United States and that the workingmen in the two countries should work together hand in hand. The last thing he had done before leaving England was to send £1,000, raised by the laboring men of England, to the Pennsylvania coal miners.

Do at Election Time. The powers of the Attorney-General are now a subject of investigation by Democrats, who seem delighted to find that John Cunneen, who was elected by the Prohibition indorsement, will be in position to do a lot of things if circumstances warrant. "The Attorney-Ceneral can appoint deputies to see that the Election law is enforced, and they will have much the same power as and they win have much the same power as McCullagh now exercises in our New York elections," said Senator Samuel J. Foley yesterday, "He can personally prosecute election frauds no matter in what county committed. He can step into any county and supersede the District Attorney in the conduct of certain cases. He can send denconduct of certain cases. He can send deputies to watch the McCullagh men and punish them if they override the people's rights. Besides he can prosecute the trusts if they violate Style laws."
